OVERVIEW

The Manulife Financial Code of Business Conduct and Ethics (the “Code”) affirms the Company's commitment to ethical conduct and its practice of complying with all applicable laws and avoiding potential or actual conflicts of interest. We must all be thoroughly familiar with its provisions and conduct ourselves according to both the letter and the spirit of the Code. With a long tradition of uncompromising dedication to the highest standards of business conduct, Manulife enjoys a reputation of unquestioned integrity and honesty. This reputation is among our most valuable assets and we must protect it.

The Code is meant to provide principles-based guidance for our daily conduct at work. It is not meant to be a compendium of all rules, including all Manulife policies, governing our behaviour, although specific provisions are included to help illustrate certain principles or where needed to address general governance needs.

For purposes of this Code, the “Company” means Manulife Financial Corporation and its subsidiaries and controlled affiliates.

The Code is organized into eight main sections:

I. Why Ethics Matter

This section outlines the Code’s purpose, its application and the way to handle specific questions and concerns under the Code including those relating to accounting and auditing matters.

II. Living Manulife Financial’s Values

This section spells out Manulife’s corporate values. As these values guide every aspect of the Company’s operations, it is the obligation of every individual to whom this Code applies to be familiar with, and vigilant about, the application of the Code to our day-to-day operations.

III. Ethics in the Workplace

Principles of fairness, professionalism and safety in the workplace are articulated in this section.

IV. Ethics in Your Business Relationships

The critical issues addressed in this section include fairness and honesty in our interactions with customers, compliance with applicable laws and the special concerns that can arise when giving gifts or other things of value to government officials. In addition, lobbying and campaign finance issues, certain antitrust concerns and the manner in which media inquiries should be handled are also discussed.

V. Conflicts of Interest

One of the main issues dealt with in the Code is how to avoid conflicts of interest. This section addresses conflicts which may arise in a variety of situations, including the giving and receiving of gifts; participating in Company transactions that could potentially benefit an employee, officer, director, agent or representative or their family; hiring family members and outside employment. The section also addresses the treatment of inside information, the prohibition on insider trading, the protection of Company opportunities and the proper use of the Company name.

VI. Handling Information

This section discusses the need to avoid inappropriate or otherwise unauthorized disclosure of information received by the Company to ensure that the privacy of our applicants, policyholders, claimants, borrowers, employees, representatives and investors is protected. The section also addresses our duty to maintain accurate records and to comply with disclosure and intellectual property laws. Finally, there is a discussion on the use of Company communications systems, including email, telephone, and Internet access, as well as the prohibition on the unauthorized disclosure of Company information via Internet chat rooms, and other electronic means.

VII. Ethics and the Law

The need to know and comply with all applicable laws, rules and regulations, including the obligation to cooperate with internal and external investigations is discussed in this section. As well, the duty to report fraud, theft and other dishonest conduct is also stressed.

VIII. A Final Word

This section reinforces the importance of employee conduct and good judgement in maintaining Manulife's good reputation. Company policies related to ethics are also listed here.

Code of Business Conduct and Ethics Certification and Conflict of Interest Disclosure Statement

A sample of the certification statement is included. All employees, officers and directors must use this statement to certify each year that they have read, reviewed and are in compliance with the terms of the Code.

I - Why Ethics Matter

At Manulife Financial we value our good name and strive to maintain high standards of integrity in everything we do.

WHY ETHICS MATTER TO YOU AND THE COMPANY

Operating in an ethical manner is essential to our success. Our customers, investors and other stakeholders rely on us to be honest and fair. We must behave ethically in the communities where we operate in order to maintain the confidence of all of our stakeholders and ultimately to keep their business. It is in our best interest to set high standards for ourselves at all times and to align ourselves with agents and representatives, suppliers and business associates who have similar high standards of business conduct.

THE PURPOSE OF THIS CODE

This Code provides standards for ethical behaviour when representing the Company and when dealing with customers, investors, employees, field representatives, external suppliers, competitors, government authorities and the public.

APPLICATION OF THE CODE

Manulife Financial's Code of Business Conduct and Ethics applies to directors, officers and employees of MFC, its subsidiaries and controlled affiliates. Sales representatives, third party business associates, contractors and others with certain duties and obligations to the Company are also expected to abide by all applicable provisions of the Code and adhere to the principles and values set out in the Code when representing Manulife to the public or performing services for, or on behalf of, Manulife. For purposes of this Code, "Manulife Financial," "Manulife" or the "Company" means MFC and its subsidiaries and controlled affiliates, including the John Hancock group of companies. This Code is available on the Company's web site and on MFCentral and is also available in print upon request.

Certain provisions of this Code may never be waived; for example, the duty to always act in an ethical manner. Some provisions, such as familial reporting relationships, may be waived by the Company in exceptional, limited circumstances and where there are sufficient controls in place to address any potential conflict of interest or other appearance of impropriety. As noted, any such waiver to a provision of the Code will be granted by the Company only in very exceptional circumstances. Any waiver for executive officers and directors of MFC will be granted only upon approval by the MFC Board of Directors or Board Committee and will be disclosed promptly as required by law or stock exchange regulation. Any waiver for officers, employees, representatives or other associates of Manulife Financial will be granted only upon appropriate management or senior management level approval with the written concurrence of the Global Compliance Chief.

At the end of each section is a list of related Company policies you should refer to for more information. These Company policies should be consulted to determine their applicability to any given division, subsidiary or affiliate. There is also a list of these policies in section VIII of this Code, in addition to a copy of the Company's Code of Business Conduct and Ethics Certification and Conflict of Interest Disclosure Statement.

What if someone violates this Code?

All our activities must be able to withstand close scrutiny. To protect Manulife Financial's good name, the Company may discipline and/or terminate its relationship or affiliation with any director, officer, employee, representative, associate or supplier who breaches this Code or any related Company policy. If violating the Code also violates the law, you may also be subject to prosecution.

Where to go for help

It is critical that all of us who represent Manulife Financial, its subsidiaries and controlled affiliates use good judgement and common sense. It is the best way to ensure that our Company continues to meet high standards of business conduct. Since we cannot anticipate every situation that will arise, it is important that we have a way to approach questions and concerns. Always ask first, act later. If you are unsure of what to do in any situation, seek guidance before you act.

Speak to your manager, a member of the Human Resources Department or Law Department or your Divisional Compliance Officer if you have:

- doubts about a particular situation;
- questions or concerns about a business practice; or
- questions about potential conflicts of interest.

Concerns about potential or suspected illegal, unprofessional, fraudulent or other unethical behaviour should be referred to a member of your Divisional Compliance, Law or Human Resources Department.

Unethical, unprofessional, illegal, fraudulent or other questionable behaviour may also be reported by calling a confidential toll free Ethics Hotline or at www.ManulifeEthics.com. Ethics Hotline telephone numbers can be found on the Manulife Ethics website. The Ethics Hotline system allows for two way communication and you may also use this process to pose questions to the Global Compliance Office. Ethics Hotline communications may be anonymous if the reporter chooses.

You may report suspected or potential illegal or unethical behaviour without fear of retaliation. The Company does not permit retaliation of any kind for good faith reports of illegal or unethical behaviour.

If you feel that your questions or concerns have not been appropriately addressed, you should direct your complaint to the Global Compliance Chief or the General Counsel, whose contact information is on MFCentral.

Members of MFC's Board of Directors should direct any questions or concerns about this Code, its scope or applicability, to the MFC General Counsel. In addition, to maintain the independence of MFC's Board of Directors, the Board of Directors and its Committees may retain outside advisors as they deem necessary. Individual directors may also retain outside advisors, at the Company's expense, to provide advice on any matter before the Board or a Board Committee with the prior approval of the Corporate Governance & Nominating Committee.

Where to go for help - Reporting Accounting and Auditing Complaints/Concerns

Concerns Submitted By Directors, Officers, Employees, Representatives and Other Associates:

Directors, officers, employees, representatives and other associates who have accounting or auditing concerns that they believe have not been properly addressed, should forward these concerns to MFC's Corporate Secretary in a sealed envelope addressed to the Chair of the Audit Committee care of the Corporate Secretary at the Company's head office. These concerns may be forwarded on an anonymous basis. The envelope should be marked "Confidential Internal Manulife Concern." The Corporate Secretary will then forward the sealed envelope to the Audit Committee Chair. In addition, accounting and auditing concerns may be reported to MFC's Corporate Secretary on a named basis by emailing the Corporate Secretary. As with the paper submissions, the Corporate Secretary will refer all such reports to the Chair of the Audit Committee.

Accounting and auditing concerns may also be reported by calling a confidential toll free Ethics Hotline or at www.ManulifeEthics.com. Ethics Hotline telephone numbers can be found on the Manulife Ethics website. Concerns received via the Ethics Hotline related to auditing or accounting matters will be forwarded to MFC's Audit Committee by the Global Compliance Chief.

Complaints Submitted By the Public:

All complaints or submissions by the public regarding accounting, accounting controls or auditing matters must be sent to MFC's Corporate Secretary at the Company's head office. The Corporate Secretary will then forward the complaint or submission to the Chair of the Audit Committee.

Following a review of the complaint or concern, the Audit Committee Chair, where appropriate, will take steps to have the matter investigated and, if warranted, will request that the Board and management implement corrective measures.

The Company will periodically review these reporting procedures relating to accounting and auditing concerns and may amend them as appropriate.

Quick ethics quiz

While a code of conduct can provide principles of behaviour and some general rules, it cannot cover every situation. Ethics sometimes comes down to a personal decision. To help you make the right choice, ask yourself the following questions:

- Is this legal? Is it fair?
- Would I want other people to know I did it?
- How would I feel if I read about it in the newspaper?
- How will I feel about myself if I do it?
- What would I tell my child or a close friend to do in a similar situation?

II - Living Manulife Financial's Values

At Manulife Financial, our values guide everything we do, whether it's strategic planning, day-to-day decision making or the way we treat customers and others with a stake in the Company. These values are embodied in P.R.I.D.E.:

EMPLOYER OF CHOICE

Our employees will determine our future success. In order to attract and retain the best and brightest employees, we will invest in the development of our human resources and reward superior performance.

III - Ethics in the Workplace

We cannot have a positive and productive workplace unless we treat each other with respect and trust. Each of us has to help create and maintain a healthy, secure environment that values employee contributions and encourages learning.

REWARD PERFORMANCE AND ABILITY

At Manulife Financial, we value diversity and treat all individuals with dignity. We hire and promote employees on the basis of ability and reward them on the basis of performance. We respect individual rights to privacy and comply with employment laws at all times.

TREAT OTHERS WITH RESPECT

We must give co-workers the same respect and service we give customers. When we communicate with each other within the organization, we need to be open and honest. It's one way to ensure quality in everything we do. The Company will not tolerate discrimination or harassment in the workplace. Furthermore, abusive, threatening and violent behaviour are strictly prohibited.

KEEP YOUR WORKPLACE SAFE

Manulife Financial must provide a safe and healthy work environment for all employees. Protection of employees from injury or occupational illness is a significant ongoing commitment on the part of the Company. All employees have a responsibility to help ensure that the Company is complying with health, safety and environmental laws and regulations by reporting accidents, potential hazards and other concerns immediately to your manager or the facilities management in your area.

KEEP YOUR WORKPLACE SECURE

It is critical that we protect both individual and Company property and assets. While Manulife Financial takes physical and cyber security measures, we must all be part of the security process. If you know of any situation or incident that could lead to the loss, misuse or theft of Company or individual property, report it immediately to a manager or security personnel.

IV - Ethics in Your Business Relationships

Our business depends on sound relationships with customers, the community, other organizations and our stakeholders. We maintain these relationships by taking extra care when giving or receiving gifts, when producing materials for customers and others and when sharing information with outside individuals and organizations.

PROTECT AND ENHANCE THE COMPANY'S REPUTATION

All individuals to whom this Code applies must conduct their business activities in a manner that protects and enhances the Company's reputation. The risk of damage to our reputation must be a key consideration in assessing and engaging in any business relationship, transaction and activity. Any incident with the potential to harm our reputation is of high priority and senior management is to be alerted.

TREAT OTHERS HONESTLY AND FAIRLY

We must treat customers with high standards of honesty, fairness and courtesy. Customers must be able to voice their concerns easily and we must deal with complaints and disputes fairly and quickly.

We seek to outperform our competitors fairly and honestly. We seek competitive advantage through superior performance, never through unethical or illegal business practices.

The materials we provide to customers, investors and other stakeholders must meet high standards of professionalism. Advertising and sales materials must be factual, easy to understand and based on the principles of fair dealing and good faith. All promotional efforts, illustrations of products and marketing concepts must be factual.

We must be careful not to mislead customers, investors or other stakeholders about the financial status, products or services of the Company or its competitors. We must never make statements about competitors that are untrue. We must never make promises the Company cannot keep. No director, officer, employee, representative or other associate of the Company should take unfair advantage of anyone, including customers, investors, other stakeholders, suppliers or competitors. Taking unfair advantage includes manipulation, concealment, and abuse of confidential information, misrepresentation of material facts or any other unfair-dealing practice.

Also, no officer or employee may require the sale of one product or service for the purchase or sale of a separate product or service or otherwise force the buyer into accepting the purchase of either products or services. These so-called "tie-in" sales are illegal in many jurisdictions and are best avoided by offering distinct products separately and marketing each on its own merits.

COMPLY WITH LOCAL LAWS

To be professional, we must follow our corporate standards of ethical business conduct while appreciating the cultures and business customs of the countries and communities in which we operate. We must ensure compliance with applicable laws, rules and regulations in the jurisdictions where we do business.

TAKE CARE IN GOVERNMENT AND POLITICAL DEALINGS

We must take special care to use our corporate positions responsibly when dealing with government agencies and representatives. This is especially true in relation to the political process. It is important that we comply with all laws and regulations that apply when offering to provide entertainment, meals, nominal gifts, gratuities and other items of value to any employee or representative of federal, provincial, state or local governments or state owned enterprises; or when accepting such items of value from any employee or representative of federal, provincial, state or local governments or state owned enterprises.

The giving of gifts to or the payment of expenses for, or on behalf of, public officials is governed by a complicated array of regulations, which vary from jurisdiction to jurisdiction. Before making any expenditure for, or on behalf of, public officials you must contact your Divisional Government Relations function or Divisional Chief Legal Officer for explicit approval. Gifts of a significant value to a government official, party official, or an employee of a state owned enterprise are prohibited.

While the Company expresses views on local and national issues that affect its operations, we cannot represent ourselves as Company spokespeople without proper authorization. Questions regarding whether authorization has been properly given must be referred to the Global Compliance Chief.

The Company respects and supports the right of every individual to participate in the political process. However, the Company will not provide reimbursement for any political contributions made by any individual, including the purchase of tickets to political fund-raising events such as dinners. These are to be handled personally by the employee.

The Company's general policy is that it will not make any political contributions. No officer or employee may make or authorize any payment by or on behalf of the Company to any political party, organization, committee, candidate or public official or in connection with any political caucus, convention or election, except as permitted by law and approved by the Divisional Government Relations Chief and the Divisional Law Department. Under applicable laws, prohibited Company contributions and expenditures include the donation of Company funds, the use of Company facilities, including office space and equipment, as well as the donation of the services of Company employees to the campaign committee of a candidate.

You must not engage in any lobbying activities on behalf of the Company unless you first obtain specific authorization from your Divisional Government Relations Chief or Divisional Chief Legal Officer.

In addition, no officer or employee may make or authorize any payment or transfer of anything of value to any foreign public official (including employees of state owned enterprises or political parties) except as may be permitted by applicable law and approved by the Divisional Law Department or Divisional Government Relations Chief.

SHARE INFORMATION RESPONSIBLY WITH INDUSTRY GROUPS AND OTHERS

Memberships in business organizations can increase the effectiveness of individuals, the Company and our industry. The Company encourages membership in such organizations, especially those that strive to improve the industry.

It is a normal part of these memberships to share aggregated, statistical and policy information. However, we need to ensure that we do not exchange confidential corporate information that could jeopardize the Company's competitive position. We must also take care not to violate the confidentiality or privacy that customers, investors, employees, representatives, distributors, suppliers and others legitimately expect.

In addition, the Company is subject to antitrust and trade regulation laws in many jurisdictions. Generally, these laws prohibit discussions, agreements or understandings with any competitor that relate to pricing, customers, products, services, territory allocation or a boycott or refusal to deal with any third party. Company representatives whose duties bring them in contact with representatives of competing companies must be especially cautious. If sensitive information is raised by a competitor in the presence of a Company representative, every reasonable effort must be made to terminate the conversation and the Company representative must promptly report the incident to the Divisional Law Department. When participating in any exchange of information with competitors, including any statistical survey, advice from the Divisional Law Department should be sought.

REFER MEDIA QUESTIONS TO COMMUNICATIONS DEPARTMENTS

The media play an important role in helping inform the public about Manulife Financial, its products and services. Communications departments within each division or geographic location are responsible for communicating official Company positions to the media. You must direct all media inquiries to these departments.

CHOOSE SUPPLIERS THROUGH FAIR COMPETITION

Manulife Financial is committed to fair competition in all its dealings with suppliers. It is important to communicate the Company's requirements clearly and uniformly to all potential suppliers. Choose suppliers on the basis of merit, competitiveness, price, reliability and reputation.

If a supplier asks you to endorse a product or service using the Company name or your position as a Company representative, direct the request to the Senior Executive Vice-President, Executive Vice-President or Senior Vice President of your division or geographic location.

You must not suggest or imply to a supplier that the Company's patronage depends on the supplier becoming a customer or on the supplier continuing to make purchases from the Company.

For more guidance

See the following sections in this Code:

- Conflicts of Interest
- Handling Information
- Ethics and the Law

V - Conflicts of Interest

A “conflict of interest” occurs when your private interest interferes in any way with the interests of the Company, its clients or its customers. A conflict situation can arise when you take actions or have interests that make it difficult to perform Company work objectively and effectively. It is also a conflict if outside activities affect your judgment to act in the best interest of customers, investors and other stakeholders.

Conflicts of interest damage the trust between you, the public and the Company. Moreover, even the appearance of a conflict may be harmful to the Company. We must all be vigilant in this regard, and must avoid all interactions, relationships or situations that could reasonably give rise to the appearance of a conflict.

To help prevent conflicts or the appearance of conflicts, you must update your Code of Business Conduct and Ethics Certification and Conflict of Interest Disclosure Statement annually. You are also responsible for updating the statement as your circumstances change during the year. Statements are available on the Policies Database and should be submitted to Frances McManus, AVP Global Compliance.

Directors and officers of MFC are required by law to disclose conflicts of interests in material agreements and transactions entered into by the Company. For further guidance, MFC directors and corporate officers should review the MFC Conflict of Interest Rules for Directors and Officers.

If a conflict of interest or a potential conflict arises, report it immediately to your manager. If you need advice, consult the procedures described in the section of this Code titled “Where to go for help.” The following are some of the most common areas of potential conflict, but the most reliable guideline is your own common sense

DEAL AT ARM'S LENGTH WITH SUPPLIERS AND OTHER COUNTERPARTIES

You must not be associated in any way with agreements between the Company and suppliers in which you or a member of your immediate family have an interest, or which might result in personal gain or benefit in any way to you or to a member of your family.

You must not engage in transactions or other business decision-making relating to suppliers, vendors, customers or other business relationships that may benefit you or a member of your immediate family, without receiving explicit written authorization from your supervisor. Such authorization is only appropriate where the supervisor determines that there is no actual conflict of interest. Failure to obtain such written authorization before engaging in such activity can result in termination.

BRIBERY AND KICKBACKS ARE PROHIBITED

Manulife Financial does not allow unfair business practices such as rebating, bribery or kickbacks. These practices are against Company policy in all places where we conduct business.

BE CAREFUL ABOUT GIFTS

Offers of gifts and entertainment are courtesies common among business partners. However, offering or accepting gifts, entertainment or other benefits can be mistaken for improper payments. For this reason, the guidelines below must be followed.

Officers and employees or their family members must not receive money or any item of value from any third party in connection with the officer's or employee's participation in any Company transaction. Officer compensation, other than Company wages, bonus, pension or benefits, may be regulated by law and requires approval by a Division Head.

Company officers may not have any interest in commissions or other compensation based on premiums or consideration payable to the Company on any policy or contract of insurance unless the policy or contract was written and effective prior to the officer's appointment.

In addition to the rules noted below, directors, officers and employees must not receive from, or give any gift or form of entertainment to, anyone with whom the Company has or is likely to have any business dealings, if the gift or entertainment could reasonably be perceived as an attempt to influence the recipients' judgment in carrying out their duties to the Company or their employer. If the suitability of a gift or entertainment is questionable, employees should consult with their Division Head or the Divisional Law Department, while MFC directors should forward inquiries to the MFC General Counsel.

Gifts or entertainment provided to public officials, including employees of state owned enterprises and political parties, are covered in the section titled "Take Care In Government and Political Dealings."

Insurance Customers or Prospects: Gifts or entertainment, including promotional items, are subject to insurance anti-rebating and inducement laws governing the sale of insurance and annuity products. Questions regarding the application of these laws should be directed to your Divisional Compliance Officer.

Sales and Related Activities: Specialized rules and regulations apply to sales activities. In the U.S. FINRA rules govern the receipt and giving of gifts involving registered representatives or broker-dealers. Questions regarding the applicability of these sales-related rules and regulations should be directed to your Divisional Compliance Officer.

BE CAREFUL ABOUT PERSONAL BENEFITS

Conflicts of interest may arise if you receive, or a member of your family receives, a personal benefit as a result of your position in the Company. All such personal benefits, including loans and guarantees of obligations from the Company, must be disclosed on the Company's Code of Business Conduct and Ethics Certification and Conflict of Interest Disclosure Statement and approved by the Company. Personal loans to executive officers are prohibited unless specifically permitted by law.

Involvement in Investment Decisions Requiring Disclosure: Manulife Financial directors, officers and employees shall not recommend or participate in any Company investment decision involving an entity in which they or any of their family members have a financial interest, unless the existence of such interest has been properly disclosed to their superiors and to those involved in all stages of the approval process. Individual divisions and business units may determine a minimum threshold below which disclosure is not required, with the approval of the Divisional Compliance Officer. MFC directors and corporate officers should also review MFC's Conflict of Interest Rules for Directors and Officers.

FOLLOW COMPANY POLICY ABOUT HIRING FAMILY MEMBERS

In some situations, hiring, transferring or managing family members can lead to conflicts of interest, potential for collusion, unethical employment practices and the appearance of special treatment. Family members must not be in positions that put them under or give them direct or indirect supervisory authority of another family member. Family members in certain identified business units and job functions could create the appearance of and/or the potential for collusion and theoretical fraudulent activity. Business areas must be aware of these situations to ensure proper controls are in place to mitigate this risk.

For purposes of the Code, family members include spouse (as defined for benefit purposes), domestic partner, children, grandchildren, siblings, parents, grandparents, aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, in-law relationships and step or common-law in-law relationships. The rules relating to family members apply to all employment, including full-time and part-time regular status, contract and summer student hiring. All hiring within Manulife must be conducted by Divisional Staffing areas.

INVEST IN AN ETHICAL MANNER

Directors, officers and employees must strictly follow all laws and regulations affecting investments. It is unethical and illegal for directors, officers and employees to buy or sell Manulife securities while in possession of material information that has not been publicly disclosed about the Company or its affiliates or to inform another person, except as permitted by law, of material information that has not been publicly disclosed.

In addition, it is unethical and may be illegal to buy or sell securities of another company with the benefit of your knowledge of the Company's investment intentions or any material information that has not been publicly disclosed about that company.

Directors, officers and employees must also be cautious of potentially being in a conflict of interest where they wish to make an investment in a business entity which they know transacts business with Manulife or in which Manulife has made an investment.

Do not speculate in Manulife securities. In order to comply with applicable law and to ensure that perceptions of improper insider trading do not arise, Manulife prohibits its directors, officers and employees from "speculating" in Manulife securities. "Speculation" includes the purchase or sale of Manulife securities with the intent of reselling or buying back in a relatively short period of time in the expectation of a rise or fall in the market price of such securities, the buying or selling of put or call options on Manulife securities, and short selling Manulife securities.

Additionally directors and officers, and certain employees who directly or indirectly short sell Manulife securities or buy or sell put or call options or other derivatives on Manulife securities may be liable, pursuant to the provisions of the Insurance Companies Act (Canada), to compensate persons who suffered a loss and to compensate the Company for any benefit or advantage received as a result of the transaction.

The monetization of equity awards before vesting and payment by the company is prohibited.

For further questions relating to the handling of inside information and/or the trading of Company securities or derivatives you should refer to MFC's Insider Trading and Reporting Policy.

Additionally as a global financial institution, government regulators, business partners and customers expect Manulife to adopt and enforce codes and standards to pro-actively address the conflicts between employee personal investing and the investment activities of our businesses. As such, certain employees who are involved directly or indirectly in Manulife's investment businesses or have access to certain sensitive investment information are required to comply with certain business-level codes of ethics. These business-level codes of ethics impose disclosure obligations and limit personal investment activities in Manulife and non-Manulife securities by both the employee and members of the employee's household. These obligations and limitations include but are not limited to obtaining Manulife approval for certain personal securities transactions, providing Manulife with access to personal securities holdings and transaction information, limitations on the use of certain brokerage firms, and limitations on certain personal investment activities.

WORKING FOR COMPETITORS MAY JEOPARDIZE THE COMPANY

Unless your supervisor or the Board of Directors has given explicit prior written approval, no Manulife Financial director, officer or employee may work for any organization that competes with the Company or that has a business relationship with the Company. This includes serving as a director, officer, trustee, partner, employee, consultant or agent. In addition, no officer or employee may serve as a director of any enterprise with publicly traded securities without first obtaining written approval from the MFC SEVP, Corporate Development & General Counsel.

USE CAUTION REGARDING OUTSIDE POSITIONS

Outside work or financial involvement in external organizations can lead to conflicts of interest. Such involvement could interfere with your ability to give objective, full-time attention to your work with Manulife Financial or could damage the Company's image. You must not engage in any other employment or take any civic, charitable, government or political position that would hamper your performance or your judgment to act in the Company's best interest. You may sell merchandise on Company property only with the authorization of your manager or a Human Resources representative.

PROTECT CORPORATE OPPORTUNITIES

Individuals to whom this Code applies are prohibited from (a) benefiting from opportunities that are discovered through the use of Company property, information or position; (b) using Company property, information or position for personal gain; and (c) competing with the Company. You owe a duty to the Company to advance its legitimate interests when the opportunity to do so arises.

PROTECT THE COMPANY'S NAME, REPUTATION AND ASSETS

The name Manulife Financial must be used only for authorized Company business and never for personal activities. Do not identify yourself with the Company while pursuing personal, political or not-for-profit activities, unless you obtain prior approval from the Chief Compliance Officer in your Division.

An important way to protect the Company's reputation is to refrain from making statements that could adversely affect the Company. Disparaging comments or false statements about the Company, its representatives or its products and services, can damage the Company's reputation. You must not make written or oral statements, in print, via electronic media or in person that could be damaging to the Company, unless you are required to by law or for the purpose of carrying out your duties to the Company.

Each director, officer, employee, representative or other associate entrusted with access to or control over Company transactions and assets must ensure that each use, acquisition or disposition of an asset by a person on behalf of the Company is undertaken with the general or specific authorization of management and is accurately and fairly recorded in reasonable detail in the Company's books of account and record.

During the course of or related to your employment with the Company, you may be involved in the creation, development or invention of intellectual property, which includes but is not limited to, ideas, concepts, methods, processes, inventions, confidential information and trade secrets, works of authorship, trademarks, servicemarks and designs. All such intellectual property and the worldwide intellectual property rights therein such as copyrights and patents will be owned by the Company. You are responsible for co-operating with the Company and providing all necessary assistance to ensure that all such intellectual property and related rights become the exclusive property of the Company including by providing the Company with such assignments, waivers and other documents as may be requested.

We all share a responsibility to protect Company assets. VI - Handling Information

Information is one of the Company's most vital assets. Confidential information includes all non-public information that might be of use to competitors or harmful to the Company or our customers and other stakeholders if disclosed. It is important that you understand how sensitive this information is and how significant it is for competitiveness and individual privacy.

PROTECT PERSONAL AND CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

In the course of regular business, we collect a substantial amount of information about our applicants, policyholders, claimants, borrowers, employees, representatives and investors. We must handle this information with the greatest care to merit their confidence and protect their privacy.

Personal information must be kept secure, in confidence and used only for the purposes for which it was collected. It may be disclosed to those who have a right to the information or when the law requires disclosure, or otherwise in accordance with applicable Company privacy policies.

Confidential information about the Company itself must also be protected. Information about the Company is confidential if it is not generally available to the public. Examples are financial results before they are announced, business plans, business forecasts, strategic initiatives, proposed acquisitions or divestitures and current or proposed products. If you have access to confidential information as a result of your job, you must use every precaution to keep it confidential. It is important to use discretion when discussing Company business in public places such as restaurants and airplanes, or when using public or cellular phones, the Internet and fax machines. If you are required for legitimate business purposes to disclose confidential information to any person outside the Company, authorization must be obtained from your Divisional Chief Legal Officer or Divisional Chief Compliance Officer or their designee.

You have a duty to protect both personal and confidential information even after you leave your employment with the Company. In this regard, you must not retain access to or take any Manulife files or confidential information in any form with you when you leave the Company.

FOLLOW DISCLOSURE REQUIREMENTS

Manulife is required to make disclosures about its financial condition and business activity on a timely and broadly disseminated basis and without being unduly optimistic on prospects for future company performance. The Company makes such disclosures through authorized spokespersons or authorized filings. The key principles of disclosure are:

- All materials must be broadly disseminated in a timely manner.
- Disclosure must be full, fair, understandable and accurate and avoid any misrepresentation of the Company and its finances.

- Disclosure must be accomplished consistently during both good times and bad.
- All legitimate requests for information should be treated equally.

Employees must refer all inquiries from the financial community, shareholders and media to an authorized spokesperson.

RESPECT COPYRIGHTED MATERIALS

Copyright laws protect many materials you use in the course of your work as an employee or representative of Manulife Financial. A few examples are computer software, books, audio and video recordings, trade journals and magazines. There may also be a copyright on presentation slides, training materials, management models and problem-solving frameworks produced by outside consultants. It is illegal to reproduce, distribute or alter copyrighted material without the permission of the copyright owner or authorized agent.

You must also comply with the copyrights on software installed on your office computer and on network computer storage areas you control. You may not copy, install or otherwise use software in a manner that violates the license agreement for that software.

KEEP FULL AND ACCURATE RECORDS

The Company requires full and accurate records to meet its legal and financial obligations and to manage its business properly. All Company books, financial reports, expense accounts, time sheets, administrative records and other similar documents must be completed accurately, honestly and in accordance with Company procedures. Making false, fictitious, misleading or inappropriate entries with respect to any transaction of the Company or the disposition of any of the Company's assets is prohibited, and no director, officer, employee, representative or other associate may engage in any transaction that requires or contemplates the making of false, fictitious, misleading or inappropriate entries. You are responsible for the accuracy and completeness of any reports or records you create or maintain. Undisclosed or unrecorded assets, liabilities, revenues or expenses are prohibited.

Furthermore, all directors, officers, employees, representatives and other associates must comply with the Company's records management policies. These policies describe how long documents and records (whether in print or electronic form) must be maintained in order to facilitate the Company's ongoing operations and to satisfy financial, legal and regulatory retention requirements. These policies also provide directions for the proper disposal of records that have been kept for the required periods. In accordance with these policies, in the event of litigation or governmental investigation, please consult your Divisional Law Department.

USE COMMUNICATIONS SYSTEMS AND SERVICES FOR BUSINESS

Company communications systems, which include all computer and telecommunications equipment the Company owns or leases as well as all remote computing services used by the Company, including the Internet, are intended to be used for business purposes. Occasional personal use of Company communication s systems is permitted when the use does not:

- interfere with the user's work performance;
- distract other individuals from their job responsibilities;
- unduly impact the operation of Company systems or processes; or
- violate any provisions of this Code or any other Company policy.

All Company communications systems (including data on these systems) are the Company's property. Authorized individuals may periodically check these systems to correct network problems, pursuant to regulatory requirements or otherwise and/or to ensure they are being properly used and secure. You cannot expect any personal privacy for communications that you send, receive or store on these systems.

Social Media

There are an ever increasing number of Social Media sites and tools, such as Facebook, LinkedIn and Twitter. The Company has a Global Social Media Policy in place governing authorized business and personal use of these tools.

Under certain circumstances an employee's use of social media can pose risks to the Company's confidential and proprietary information, reputation and brands, and can jeopardize the Company's compliance with business rules, regulations and laws.

Postings/communications made through social media are or can become public and they may be difficult or impossible to rescind. Employees are held accountable for their social media postings and communications. You are required to obtain an understanding of the laws that affect your work and make sure your business conduct complies with those laws. Report violations quickly and manage them properly if they occur in an area you manage.

A formal compliance management program is in place at Manulife Financial. It is designed to promote consistent management and monitoring of compliance with laws and regulations in all Company operations. MANAGE ASSETS PROPERLY

Customers expect that the money they entrust to the Company will be handled responsibly. If you have access to customer funds, you must make sure customer funds are handled in a trustworthy manner. Every division has procedures and standards to help protect and account for all funds under management and to prevent carelessness, fraud or dishonesty.

As a provider of financial services, Manulife Financial is vulnerable to loss from dishonesty and fraud. Fraud can take many forms, such as mishandling of money, theft of cash or property, money laundering, corrupt payments of money and provision of things of value, terrorist financing, misrepresentation and falsification or forgery of documents.

Dishonesty, combining personal and business funds and fraud are all illegal. It is management’s responsibility to ensure there are proper internal controls to deter and detect fraud and other dishonest activities, but everyone in the Company must help. If you are aware of any suspicious activity, you have a duty to report it immediately to the relevant immediate supervisor, Business Unit Compliance Officer and the Divisional Chief Compliance Officer, or to the Ethics Hotline. Furthermore, you have a duty to cooperate with any investigations pertaining to Company matters.

REPORTING ANY ILLEGAL OR UNETHICAL BEHAVIOUR

Consult the procedures described in the section of this Code titled “Where to go for help” on reporting any suspected or potential illegal or unethical behaviour. It is the policy of the Company not to allow retaliation for reports of misconduct by others made in good faith.
